The four anarchists, August Spies, Albert R. Parsons, George Engel, and Adolph Pischer, were hanged at the county jail in Chicago on Friday morning, Nov. 11. The execution occurred at 11:59 o'clock. There was an absence of many of the usual formalities on the scaffold, the Sheriff reading the death warrant to the men in the library before leading them to the gallows where they perished miserably for their

Spies and Fischer were in the library, Engel sate chatting pleasantly with two buildies in Jailer Folz's private-office, while Parsons reposed in his cell, discoursing breazily through the open door to the death watch, who leaned against the sash and smoked a cigar.

The prisoners all professed, with an air of forced cheerfulness to be hungry. Spies asked for mutton chops, fried eggs, and coffee, and Fischer wanted the same, saying that for most ho proferred beefsteaks, Engel and Parsons both hit upon cream teast and coffee, and corders were served with creditable prompitude

Engel grow a little more serious as the night were on, and when he came to be more familiar with the death watch, he talked with them about the cause for which he was about to die. He protested his innocence ever and over again, and told the story of the Haymarket riot, and all his knew of it.

The Rev. Mr. Bolton called on Engel as he did on the others, but wife the same unsatisfactory result. The wratched Engel dwelt with bitter emiphasis upon the fact that it was the informer Waller, who atterward swore his life away, that first informed him of the messacre, 'I was drinking beer and playing cards with my neighbors wire. POLITICAL AND MISCELLANEOUS.

Men that can influence as many votes as the anarchists are not likely to stay in the penitentiary very long. Chicago Times.

A local anarchist at Bay City hoisted the red flag last Friday, but the mayor ordered it down, and as it did not come down in time a policemar hauled it down.

The war is over, to be sure, but the democratic party has been badly hurt by the explosion of the old Jackson n ian shell down in Georgia, -Philadel phia Press.

Dakota decides overhelmingly in favor of division. This means that at an early day there will be two more republican states, with the electoral vote of that party increased by eight or ten - St. Louis Globe Democrat.

The Prohibitionists of the country must rejoice over the success of their party in defeating the republican party in New York and electing the ticket of the democratic party, a party that has done so much in the interest of temperance. - Cheboygan Tribune.

There is one level-hended democrat in Massachusetts, Col. Marshall. It was he who recently said: "'I am content to be governed by tried democrats: I am not willing to be governed by tried and convicted ones." Colonel. Marshall wouldn't be happy in Baltimore. - Cheboygan Iribnne.

The Detroit Evening News office was ravaged by a fire Thursday night which not only did much damage but greatly demoralized the establishment. But the next day the News came out on time and in complete order, showing what can be done by pluck and enterprise. It did not skip an issue or drop an advertisement or a line of news. -Bay City Press.

The Chicago News lays down this doctrine; Freedom of speech is the innlienable birthright of every American citizen. But coupled with this right is also the responsibility for its abuse If a man by his speech invites to theft, or arson, or murder, or bomb throwing he must take the consequences equally with the actual thief, murderer, incendiary or dynamiter,

The vote in the Territory of Dakota for congressional delegate in 1886 was 66,985, more than two and a half times as many as were polled for the ten democrats in Georgia, and the majority for the republican candidate was larger than the entire vote for ter representatives in Georgia, and every one of Georgia's ten opposed the admission of Dakota as a state.

The farming community will be delighted with the United States supreme court's finding that the 'drive well' patent is invalid, because it was in ass two years before Col. Greene claims to have invented it. It is generally be lieved that Bell has little better claim to his telephone invention. The enormous extractions of successful inventors are provoking deep discontent with the patent laws, -Det. Journal.

It is believed at Washington that Cleveland will, very soon, reorganize his Cabinat he from the head of the Interior depart ment to the Supreme court to fill the vacancy there existing, transferring Col. Vilus from the head of the postoffice department to the head of the Interior department and appointing Don. M. Dickinson, to Michigan, to be Postmaster General, -- Blade.

Secretary Lamar's, sharp letter to Commissioner Sparks will probably make Sparks fly. The secretary uses the paddle with considerable vigor and gives the commissioner to understand that there is a certain gulf between a superior and a subordinate which the latter cannot span without getting his shins kicked. As the quarrel is all in the Cleveland household we have no advice to offer. Mr. Lampropenty declares that either himself or Sparks must get out of the Interior depart ment and as Lamar is anxiously wait ing to be summoned to take a seat on the supreme bench he is of course more than willing to be the first to Effect of Heat on Rocks. That heat exercises a metamorphos-ing influence on the structures it comes in contact with is a matter of familiar knewledge to every one. The pris-matic texture assumed by the lining of turnaces after long-continued heat has mane between assumed by the liming of rurnaces after long-continued heat has long been noticed, while the examination of brick or a teacup shows how clays are consolidated or fused when they are 'baked.' The 'vitrification' of sand into a glassy material is another peculiar case in point. Where trap or granite dykes have obtruded themselves the rock on either side is altered instructure, being as a rule rendered more crystalline than the unaltered mass. The high temperature, however, may be applied, not by contact, as in the case mentioned, but by transmission in various ways, such as through mission in various ways, such as through the heat of a volcano, or by hot aprings, steam, or other vapor, permeating for a long period the strata.

Even cold water exercises a certain metamorphic influence on the rocks through which it percolates. It is found in more or less minute quantities in all rocks even the quartity of granite found in more or less minute quantities in all rocks, even the quartz of granite being full of they water vesicles, of which only the furnace can deprive it. Some granites, indeed, contain in their ordinary state a pint and a half in every cubic foot. Chalk is also highly absorbent again forms of it being all. absorbent, some forms of it being able to take up half of their bulk without to take up half of their bulk without appearing to be moist. Ordinary sandstones: hold nearly a gallon in a cubic foot, and according to Ansted, in the best building stones belonging to the sandstone group from four to five pints of water are contained in each cubic foot of the stone. The quantity of water capable of being held by common loose secretary amounts to at least two water capable of being held by common loose sea-sand amounts to at least two gallons in a cubic foot, while into the layers of sand between the harder rocks so much water is always soaking that the driest seasons do not exhaust these reservoirs. By dissolving out certain chemical constituents in the rock, water must therefore, exercise some alteration on the beds through which it percelates, or in which it stands. This power is, of course, greatly intensified by heat, and this heat, we know, is added to it in constantly increasing amounts as the water descends toward the interior of the earth. Even at so low a temperature as from 59 to 172 degrees the mineral waters of Plumbieres, in the Vosges, have in one week produced zeolites—minerals consisting of silicates of lime and magnesia—on the Roman-brick

This man has, in his official capacity, "worked of" fifty-two inurderers, hanging forty-two on the same gallows. This celebrated executioner is 57 years of age, a Bavarian by birth, but an American by residence for the greater portion of his life. He is said to be a jolly, good fellow.

Penulties of Kissing.

In Iceland kissing has incurred penalties of great severity. For kissing another man's wife, with or without her consent, the punishment of exclusion or its pecuniary equivalent was awarded. A man rendered himself liable for kissing an unmarried woman under legal guardianship without her consent; the law required that every himselvelly her wind out her five for the consent. kiss should be wiped out by a fine of three marks—equivalent to 140 ells of wadmal—sufficient to furnish a whole ship's crow with pilot jackets.

Blood Will Tell.

There is no question about it—blood will tell, especially if it be an impure bloot. Blotches, eruptions, piniples and boils, are all symptoms of an impure bloot, due to the improper action of the liver. When the important organ fails to properly perform its function of purifying and deansing the blood, impurities are carried to all parts of the system, and the symptoms above referred to are morely evidences of the struggle of Nature to throw off the poisonous germs. Unless her warning be he dedd in time, serious results are certain to follow, culminating in liver or kidney disorders, or even in consumption. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will provent and cure these cises uses, by restoring the liver to a healthy condition.

A Popular Thoroughfare,
The Wisconsin Central Line, although a comparatively new factor in the railroad systems of the Northwest, has acquired an enviable popularity. Through careful attention to details, its service is as near perfection as might be looked for. The train attendents seem to regard their trusts as individual property and as a result the public is served par-excellence. The road now runs solid through fast trains between Chicago, Milwankee, 8k Paul and Minneapolis with Pullman's best and unequalled dining cars; it also runs, through, solid sleepors between Chicago, Aeliland, Duluth and the famous mining regions of Northern Wisconsin and Michigan. A Popular Thoroughfare.
